Vintage Doily Necklace

DIY tutorial created by Rebekah J. Murray for Elizabeth Anne Designs

Supplies (can all be found at Michael's, except for the vintage doily, which Rebekah sourced at a local antique store):

- Vintage doily
- Sewing glue
- Needle-nose pliers
- Flat-nose pliers
- Jewelry chain
- Jump rings
- Clasp closure

- 1) Lay your doily out and decide where to cut. Be sure that each side of the doily after cutting has four loops for the chain.
- 2) After cutting the lace, dot sewing glue around the edges and where the chain will be added to prevent it from fraying.

3) Measure the chain for your neck and doily.

4) Open a jump ring with needle nose pliers, and attach it to one end of your chain. Thread the jump ring through the doily. Use flat nose pliers to close the jump ring. Do the same with a smaller length of chain on the second doily loop on the same side of the necklace. Then use another jump ring to attach the smaller length of chain to the longer length. Repeat on the other side of the doily.

At the other ends of your chain, use jump rings to attach your necklace closures. Rebekah found a precious typewriter key closure for this necklace.

Voila, a beautiful vintage doily necklace!
